Bob On Bryan...

I am both proud and delighted with Bryan's progress. He deserves an awful lot of credit for his amazing progress, applying his coaching in a structured journey to financial freedom. Many business owners often lose sight of why they began in business, and become consumed by the day-to-day.

Bryan is particularly smart. He realised very quickly that you have to align both your personal goals and those of your business with those of the team, and have a specific destination in mind in order to experience true freedom.

While I used financial freedom as the goal, Bryan experienced a more valuable goal, that of personal time. He is now working "on" his business rather than "in" it - an essential stepping stone on the path to his goals.

Bryan Adams heads PH Creative, a rapidly expanding web-site, SEO and pay-per-click consultancy.

With an almost obsessive eye for detail, quality and delivering return on investment, they were a successful company even before they sought out Freedom Coaching.

"Our turnover grew by 300% after being coached by Freedom" says Bryan. "More importantly, it was controlled growth. I feel I've developed as a person, as a leader, with confidence, peace of mind, and a greater deal of security."

He adds "And during the coaching process, Bob's experience taught me how important it was to have fun and understand how personal goals should be built into how we run the business. Too often, business owners sacrifice themselves, but with Bob's help the business now matches both my personal goals and those of the entire team we have built".

Time On My Hands To Really Think

Business coaching uncluttered my mind. I have time to lead the business. I have grown in confidence.

A Sense Of Purpose And Direction

Both myself and the team now have systems which visibly measures precisely where we are on the path to our shared goals.

Success Breeds Success

I am certain that Bob's experience and ability to spot the potential pitfalls in an already successful business like ours has helped us avoid expensive mistakes.

Our growth has been measured and controlled. It is planned and I sleep easily at night knowing our business has not only survived a credit crunch, but thrived through it.

I wholeheartedly recommend business coaching to everyone, and in particular Bob and the team at Freedom.
